Mechanical Sales, Omaha, receives McQuay sales award for second straight year

Minneapolis, MN—Mechanical Sales, Omaha, a manufacturers' representative firm for commercial air-conditioning products, has received the Pinnacle Award from McQuay International. The award is presented annually to the McQuay representative with the largest sales increase, the largest increase over quota and very high market share in all product lines.

It is the second year in a row and the fourth time in the past eight years that Mechanical Sales has earned the award. "We attribute our successful sales to a combination of representing exceptional products and professional customer service," said Mark Morris, a principle with Mechanical Sales. Mechanical Sales has represented McQuay International in Nebraska and western Iowa since 1968.
